CLASS NEWS

K-1 CLASS

Last Friday K/1 had their first Dune Care for the Term. The students were able to sample some of their produce and take a passionfruit or two home for you all to enjoy. It is wonderful to see them blossom into young gardeners.

Kindergarten have been learning about the Numeral Ten and Counting Back this week in Numeracy. Year One are looking at Covering Area and Ten Frame Addition. They have also started new problem solving booklets that focus on written addition and subtraction problems.

In Literacy, Kindergarten have spent this week and last week learning the sounds (d) and (l). Year One are learning words that contain the blend (sn), (sp), and (sk). They have also revised their learning of Nouns and Adjectives.

All of the students had a great time at Auskick on Tuesday and displayed great kicking and catching skills.

2-3 CLASS

This week 2/3 have been doing some NAPLAN practice. This is because NAPLAN is fast approaching next week. It is good for the year 2's to do a bit of practice because although they do not sit NAPLAN until next year, the more practice they get in with the year 3's, the less daunting it will be for them next year.

We have had great fun in our science lesson this week too. As I have mentioned previously in older newsletters, our science topic this term is called "Which came first..?" and is about life cycles. We did some integrated art and science and made a butterfly life cycle using paper plates, dry pasta, tic tacs and green cardboard. They turned out absolutely fantastic!!! I have attached below Regan Howard’s butterfly life cycle for parents to have a look at.
3-6 CLASS
Congratulations everyone on the wonderful games that were presented on Monday. Everyone did an excellent job presenting their games. Many skills were used to complete this task, reading, writing, spelling, decision making, design and making. The list goes on. I am very proud of everyone's efforts. These games will be used in the classroom each week this term. Thank you to all parents who made it for the morning. A new homework task will be set on Monday.

LIBRARY
The Library stocktake is now complete. Students will be able to borrow library books again from next Tuesday.
